

KDS/JSS

Dear Parents and Guardians,

We are writing to let you know about the annual review of your child's access to certain Google services through their school Google Workspace for Education account.

As part of Google's requirements, schools must review access to Additional Google Services for students under 18 each year.

These services are separate from core Google Workspace tools such as Gmail, Calendar and Drive, and may include services such as YouTube, Google Translate and Google Maps. You can view the full list of Additional Google Services here.

We are using an assumed consent (opt-out) process. This means that your child will continue to have access to these services unless you contact us to withdraw your consent.

What do you need to do?

No action is required if you are happy for your child to continue accessing these services.

If you wish to withdraw your consent, please contact us by Friday 25 September at googleworkspace@crestwood.hants.sch.uk. Your child's access to the relevant services will then be removed.

If you have any questions or concerns, please contact us at the same address.

Thank you for your continued support in helping us provide a safe, secure and effective digital learning environment for our students.

Kind regards,

Mr S Clark
Network Strategy Leader
